

Stephen Plowcha is a safety consultant who works with clients to develop lockout/tagout procedures and performs construction site inspections.

Prior to joining Safex, Stephen was a summer intern at Covanta Projects, LLC. He oversaw the mitigation of heat stress during a boiler outage, developed a company-wide system for safety incident recordkeeping, and assisted industrial hygiene staff. He joined Safex as an intern in January 2022 and has been an integral part of the team since.

Stephen graduated from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in May 2022 with a Bachelor of Science in Safety, Health, and Environmental Applied Sciences.
